

SCHNEIDER GROUP: Message from the CEO: We are Fully Operational

As you are surely aware, Moscow, St. Petersburg, Almaty, Kyiv, Tashkent and other cities where we are operating have introduced measures to restrict citizens from leaving their homes. As a company we were fully prepared, and our colleagues are all continuing their work from home, taking all steps to ensure that we remain 100% operational and continue providing all our services.

I appreciate the trust you continue to have in us, and I very much value the great work our people are now performing from home. You, our clients and business partners, can rest assured that we will do everything to fulfil the commitment of SCHNEIDER GROUP to exceed your expectations.

Our receptionists are also working from home and will gladly take your calls and connect you with the appropriate colleagues to deal with your queries and requests. Should there be any situation – which I do not expect – that you cannot reach the relevant staff, then I ask you to call me directly on my mobile phone, either +7 925 506 82 00 or +49 173 610 58 67.

We also have a hotline service +7 495 956 55 57, ext. 5555 that consults you on the current situation with crisis management measures.

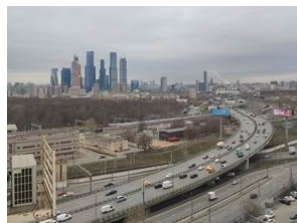

Hope you and your families will stay safe and secure during these times.

Below please find a few impressions of cities we have offices in, as it looked like yesterday and today.

Moscow Metro operating, in Moscow.

but few passengers available.

Little traffic on Moscow Streets

Supermarkets

Everything

Ukrainian parliament

Kyiv Metro completely stopped

*View from Almaty office.
Almost empty streets.*

SCHNEIDER GROUP
Home Office design

SCHNEIDER GROUP
Home Office

Kind regards,
Ulf Schneider
President & Founder

