

SCHNEIDER GROUP: Crisis Management

Dear Colleagues,

We hope that you and your families are fine.

SCHNEIDER GROUP's team is well-prepared during such difficult times and our team is able to provide your members and partners with high-level expert support to properly accommodate and better set up business in the current crisis time.

Please take into account that we have developed a special crisis management program which covers the following topics:

- 1) Business Continuity Plan
- 2) 2-General director model
- 3) FX and Budget management
- 4) HR Crisis management
- 5) Remote Infrastructure

We would like to offer to your organization, clients and partners three options of SCHNEIDER GROUP's support:

- a) Expert support in the topics above, e.g.:

<https://schneider-group.com/en/news/business-continuity-in-times-of-crisis/>

- b) Regular up-to-date newsletter about current economic situation and decree's from the government, e.g.:

<https://schneider-group.com/en/news/the-russian-presidents-address-to-the-nation/>

- c) Joint webinars with our experts, e.g.:

<https://schneider-group.com/en/news/triple-crisis-with-ruble-devaluation-of-20/>

We will be very much pleased to form an interesting and relevant agenda and adopt these options jointly with you.

If you have any questions or suggestions, please do not hesitate to contact me or Anton Perlin, Senior Manager Global Business Network, PerlinA@schneider-group.com.

Thank you very much in advance and take care.

Mit freundlichen Grüßen / Kind regards,

Alexander Shamrov
Junior Project Manager

ARMENIA – AUSTRIA – BELARUS – GERMANY – KAZAKHSTAN – POLAND – RUSSIA – UKRAINE – UZBEKISTAN