

Current tax news

The tax environment in Russia underlies frequent changes and requires qualified explanations with regards to how these changes affect business life for international companies operating in Russia.

The following changes can affect your business, and this is why we have brought them up here:

Is your company still subject to transfer pricing rules beginning from 2019?

Legal changes, which will reduce the additional administrative and fiscal burden on small and medium-sized businesses, will be applied in the field of the transfer pricing rules in Russia. Want to know whether life will be easier for you from 2019? Find out here.

Receiving income from Russian source and count on application for reduced rates in frames of a double tax treaty?

In line with BEPS initiatives implementation, Russian tax authorities expect taxpayers to prove their right for application for preferential double tax treaties rates since 2017. This can be done through the submission of the evidence confirming beneficial ownership of income. Wonder what evidence is required exactly and how to ensure the applicability of the double tax treaties under the new rules? Find out here.

In case of questions, please feel free to contact our experts.

Moscow

Sergey Leoshko
Head of Tax Department
LeoshkoSV@schneider-group.com
Tel.: +7 / 495 / 956 55 57

Artem Ardashev
Tax Expert
ArdashevAM@schneider-group.com
Tel.: +7 / 495 / 956 55 57