

The General Director – What if you don't have one?

By Christopher Schagerl, Director

Today we would like to show you our latest video news. In this video Christopher Schagerl, Director at SCHNEIDER GROUP in charge of Interim Management, speaks about the role of the General Director in Russia.

It can be rather hard to find a proper and trustworthy candidate for this role, because the General Director in Russia has far more power and responsibility than his counterparty in Europe. Nevertheless, he or she needs to be appointed already on day one of the company foundation.

In this video you will learn how SCHNEIDER GROUP can help you to overcome this tricky situation and why many clients already entrust us with the role of the General Director.

Click below to watch the video and learn more about our Interim Management services.

